HELPING THE MOST VULNERABLE AS OUR COMMUNITY RESPONDS TO COVID-19

Feeding children, paying the rent, keeping the lights on -- it's harder than ever for many of us. Since the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic, the United Way of Thunder Bay and our community partners have mobilized to meet the needs of at-risk individuals, seniors, children and families.

Thunder Bay is fortunate to have a dedicated network of local organizations who are working tirelessly to help those who need it most during these very challenging times.

EMERGENCY GOOD FOOD BOXES FOR SENIORS

Seniors have a unique vulnerability during the COVID crisis, and for those on fixed incomes living in housing, the need to be cautious and conserve their resources has been really important, as well as stressful. The Emergency Good Food Boxes, in partnership with the Thunder Bay Good Food Box and the Thunder Bay District Social Services Administration Board has pulled together three organizations to respond quickly to over 200 seniors. The funding response from the United Way of Thunder Bay and the Thunder Bay Community Foundation is what made it ultimately possible to pivot and respond so quickly. When the bags come full of food into the buildings you can see and feel the relief and gratitude from all who are receiving them. We are all so grateful."

400 TAKE HOME LUNCHES DAY

"The Dew Drop Inn would not be able to adjust to takeout lunches at such a rapid pace without the generous support of the United Way. It is essential we continue to feed the hungry in Thunder Bay. With so many lives depending on us, I shudder to think what would happen if we no longer could offer our services."
